Through our partnership, and by providing market trend data that promotes complete perspective on the New Housing Market in Airdrie, we can:

- Support the Airdrie new home builders and BILD with key market metrics to enable informed decision-making and promote awareness about the new home industry in Airdrie
- Expand knowledge of single-family supply, sales, inventory and price trends

This monthly report is made possible by the cooperation and contribution of data from many of the top builder companies in Airdrie.
