BILD Calgary Region (BILD) in partnership with Altus Group is pleased to present this overview of the Airdrie single-family new home market which is produced on a monthly basis. Single-family includes detached, duplex (semi-detached) and row townhouse (fee simple) built forms. Our objective is to deliver insights on market sales, inventory and price activity and construction trends to assist BILD and its members with market trends and knowledge, and policy discussions with government.

Through our partnership, and by providing market trend data that promotes complete perspective on the New Housing Market in Airdrie, we can:

- Support the Airdrie new home builders and BILD with key market metrics to enable informed decision-making and promote awareness about the new home industry in Airdrie
- Expand knowledge of single-family supply, sales, inventory and price trends
- Increase market transparency that benefits all

This monthly report is made possible by the cooperation and contribution of data from many of the top builder companies in Airdrie. These builder companies combined represent approximately 80% of the single-family new home activity in Airdrie and we will grow that number as more builder companies become data partners. If you are a single-family new home builder in Airdrie and wish to become a data partner and receive the benefits that go along with that please contact Beverly Jarvis, Director of Policy, Projects & Government Relations at BILD Calgary Region at beverly.jarvis@bildcr.com.

Important Updates About the Report

- New participating builders were added for January 2019. As such, the chart data as of January 2019 includes data from all previous participating builders plus the new builders that were added. (Update – Jan. 2019)
- New builder participants were added for May 2019. The sales and average sold price data as of January 2019 has been amended to include sales from all previous participating builders plus the new builders that were added. Therefore, the data for sales and average sold price from January 2019 and on is based on a consistent group of participating builders. (Update – May 2019)

Highlights (based on data reported by all builder participants)

- September sales totals in Airdrie rebounded (46) following a slow August (33) and three consecutive months of decline. While month-over-month comparisons reveal a nearly 40% increase, year-over-year activity is still lower with September 2020 activity down by 5% compared to last year. Airdrie sales have lagged the recovery seen in the City of Calgary, where sales activity is up much more strongly compared to the Spring. While Airdrie volumes lag 2019 levels slightly, there was a noted improvement in presale activity which reached 30 sales for the month, the highest levels since July 2019.
- The increased sales activity was driven by more affordably priced homes with the average sold price for Front Drive homes declining modestly. Conversely, sold prices of Attached Housing (Duplex/Townhouse) & Laned homes saw nominal price increases of 3% month-over-month and 8% increase year-over-year, respectively.
- Construction starts in September were up following the stronger presales activity, doubling the start activity in August. The number of available lots from the builders increased for the first time since March; however, the available lot inventory remains at lower levels than were seen in previous years.

Total Monthly Sales

Chart represents the total number of firm sales achieved in each month regardless of construction status (based on data reported by participating builders).

All Participating Builders

Original Participating Builders

* New builder(s) added.

Note: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers.

Pre-Construction Sales vs Spec Home Sales

Chart represents the total number of firm sales achieved in each month broken down by pre-construction sales and spec home sales (based on data reported by participating builders).

All Participating Builders

Original Participating Builders

* New builder(s) added.

Note: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers.

Monthly Sales by Lot/Home Type

Chart represents the total number of firm sales achieved in each month broken down by lot/home type (based on data reported by participating builders).

All Participating Builders

Original Participating Builders

* New builder(s) added.

Notes: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers. Attached Housing (Duplex & Townhouse) lot types and Laned lot types are combined due to smaller sample size for Laned lot type info.

Average Selling/Contract Price by Lot/Home Type

Chart represents the average price (incl. house, options, lot and GST) of homes sold in each month broken down by lot/home type (based on data reported by participating builders).

* New builder(s) added.

Notes: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers. Attached Housing (Duplex & Townhouse) lot types and Laned lot types are combined due to smaller sample size for Laned lot type info.

Monthly Construction Starts by Lot/Home Type

Chart represents number of single-family starts (i.e. foundations poured) in each month broken down by lot/home type (based on data reported by participating builders).

* New builder(s) added.

Notes: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers. Attached Housing (Duplex & Townhouse) lot types and Laned lot types are combined due to smaller sample size for Laned lot type info.

Completed Home Inventory by Lot/Home Type

Chart represents number of finished homes available for sale with immediate occupancy in each month broken down by lot/home type (based on data reported by participating builders). Note: there is no completed home data for May to September due to insufficient participant reporting.

The decrease in attached housing (duplex/townhouse) & laned completed home inventory in March 2020 was in part due to some builder inventory that was removed from the for sale market.

* New builder(s) added.

Notes: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers. Attached Housing (Duplex & Townhouse) lot types and Laned lot types are combined due to smaller sample size for Laned lot type info.

Number of Available Lots by Lot/Home Type

Chart represents number of available/unsold lots (incl. serviced lots available for immediate construction) for sale in each month broken down by lot/home type (based on data reported by participating builders).

* New builder(s) added.

Notes: data may include revisions to previously reported numbers. Attached Housing (Duplex & Townhouse) lot types and Laned lot types are combined due to smaller sample size for Laned lot type info.
